

The strength of our community...

who rise
move mountains
move goal posts
face spring after winter

we, who rise

tread the margins of the unknown
and return
with knowledge
forever uniting us

we move mountains
powerful
supportive loving nurturing

recognizing
the deepest lows
in one another
our frostbitten hearts
and the shared slow delicate thaw

if ever there was a way to measure time...

live for the moment
the next season always comes
live for the moment
whatever it brings
live for the moment
feel happy again

Ours... is a community of heroes we tread the margins of the unknown recognizing the deepest lows we move goal posts
we recognize one another
we rise
